

Advanced Color Correction in Final Cut Pro 10.4

1. Optimizing the Workspace
2. Controlling Contrast: Color Board
3. Controlling Contrast: Color Wheels
4. Controlling Contrast: Luma Curves
5. Color Wheels vs Color Board
6. Hue & Saturation: Color Curves
7. Balancing Color
8. Color Wheels or Color Board?
9. Grading Efficiently
10. Working with Color Masks
11. Combining Color & Shape Masks
12. Using Color Masks with Curves
13. Separating Subject from Background
14. Modifying the Color of Color Curves
15. Working with Hue Curves
16. Color Masks vs Hue Curves

17. The Benefits of Hue Curves
18. Using the LUMA vs SAT Curve
19. Using the SAT vs SAT Curve
20. Using the ORANGE vs SAT Curve
21. Using Multiple Hue/Saturation Curves
22. Workflow Shortcuts
23. Super-fast Color Grading Workflow
24. Correcting Master Clips
25. Matching Shots with Match Color
26. Manually Matching Shots
27. Animating Corrections
28. Creating Looks with Color Effects
29. Using the Broadcast Safe Effect
30. Creating Looks with Color Presets
31. Looks Effects
32. Custom Grayscale & Tint Effects
33. Creating a Bleach Bypass Look
34. Creating a Vintage Look

35. Creating a Day for Night Look
36. Creating a Color Isolation Effect
37. Creating a Teal & Orange Effect
38. The What & Why of LUTs
39. Working with Camera LUTS
40. Understanding LUT Workflows
41. Working with Creative LUTs
42. Camera LUTs vs Creative LUTs
43. What is HDR?
44. HDR vs Wide Color Gamut
45. Flavors of HDR
46. HDR Requirements in FCP 10.4
47. Setting up HDR Libraries & Projects
48. Color Grading in HDR
49. HDR & LUTs
50. Tone mapping HDR to SDR
51. Appendix: Color Theory & Video Scopes